For some years, I have been trying to trace the genealogy of our branch of the Radcliff family. Finding it impossible to get some of the early records which I needed, I laid the work aside, hoping I would eventually find the missing data, but as I have been unable to discover it, I decided to put together what I have already secured, hoping that, in the future, some member of the family will be more successful than I have been, and will use this material as a help in compiling a complete genealogy.

I know nothing about the early history of our family, except that it came from England. When I was about six years old, some one wrote to the relatives in Libertytown, Frederick Co., Md., where I lived, and said we were heirs to part of a big fortune in England. All of the family were quite excited, and some built many air castles as to what they would do with their share of the "English fortune", but later the news came that it had been unclaimed so long that it had reverted to the Crown. Whether this was true, or whether it was an attempt by some unscrupulous person to extort money, or whether it was all a joke, I do not know, but that was the last we ever heard of the "English fortune."

The name has been spelled in various ways by different generations and branches of the family. As my father, grandfather, and great, great, grandfather have spelled it Radcliff, many spell it the same way, but the family spell it Radcliffe. We have no records of our great, grandfather, Thomas Radcliff, who died in early manhood, but in the letters of administration granted on the estate of his wife, Elizabeth Radcliff, the name is spelled Ratcliff, but that may have been a mistake on the part of the clerk who transcribed the record.

In Fairbairn's "Crests of the Leading Families of Great Britain and Ireland," pages 395 - 396, there is a record of eleven Crests of various members or branches of the Radcliff family in different parts of England. Seven spell the name Radcliff; three, Radcliffe; and one, Radclyffe. For pictures of the crests see Plate 6 Crest 3, Plate 14 Crest 8, Plate 68 Crest 6, Plate 90 Crest 10, Plate 120 Crest 7 and Crest 14. Whether or not any of these Crests belong to our family, I do not know.

The Encyclopedia Britannica gives three prominent persons in England's history, bearing the name of Radcliffe. Ann Radcliffe (1764-1823) English novelist; Sir George Radcliffe (1593-1657) English politician; and John Radcliffe (1650-1714) a physician, but I do not know if any of them belong to our branch of the family.

I regret I cannot find out who our English forbears were, or from whence they came, but I thought it might be of interest to quote from this same Encyclopedia what is said about the town of Radcliffe:

"Radcliffe, an urban district in the Radcliffe-cum-Farnsworth parliamentary division of Lancashire, England, on the river Irwell, 2 m. S.S.W. of Bury on the Lancashire and Yorkshire railway, pop. (1901) 25,368. The church of St. Bartholomew dates from the time of Henry IV. Some of the Norman portions of the building remain. Cotton weaving, calico printing and bleaching, dyeing, paper making, iron foundling and machine making are the principal industries, and there are extensive collieries in the neighborhood."

We may have often wondered why Radcliffe College, in Cambridge, Mass., was so named, and the reason is given in the Standard Encyclopedia:

"Radcliffe College, the Women's College now affiliated with Harvard University, was founded in 1879, and is situated at Cambridge, Mass. Begun by the Society for the Collegiate Instruction of Women, it was named for Anne Radcliffe, the first woman to give an endowment to Harvard, 1894."

Tradition in our family says that there were three Radcliff brothers who came over from England, and that our ancestor, and perhaps his brothers also, settled in Virginia, but we have no records to tell us their given names, or where they settled. The first record we have is in 1802, when Joseph Radcliff of Anne Arundel Co., Md. bought land in Frederick Co., Md. This record was found in the Court House in Frederick, Md.

As I have found no old papers, or old family Bibles, I have had to depend entirely upon the old records preserved in the State House at Annapolis; in the Court House at Frederick; and in the Library of the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore. We know that my great grandfather was Thomas, son of Joseph Radcliff, who came from Anne Arundel Co., Md., and in 1802 bought land on Bush Creek, near Monrovia, Md., which is about six miles from Frederick, Md. I employed a genealogist to search at Annapolis the earliest records of the Counties of Md., as all of the records previous to 1773 are preserved in the State House at Annapolis. There were records of Radcliffs in Charles, St. Mary, Somerset and Talbot Counties, but the one whom I think is our ancestor is Mullenex Radcliff of Charles Co., as his will shows he had a son Joseph, and probably Joseph moved from Charles to Anne Arundel and thence to Frederick County.

In the absence of absolute proof, I can not start this genealogy with Mullenex Radcliff, but with the Joseph whom the Land Records show came from Anne Arundel Co., Md., in 1802, to Frederick Co., and whom I know was my great, great, grandfather. However, I will include in this Introduction the data I have concerning Mullenex (or Mullinix, as it is spelled in some of the old records,) and trust that some day we will find the connecting links which we now lack.

The following children were given in the will of Mullenex Radcliffe of Charles Co., Md., made 18 March 1722, probated 15 May 1734, Book 21, folio 62:

(1) dau. Wilinder
(2) son Joseph (minor)
(3) son John (minor)
(4) son Charles

(5) .son Jossaway (or Joshua)
(6) dau. Mary (minor)

Joseph was the executor.

Some of the records sent me are not very clear in meaning. One says:

"He was surety on Wm. Chapman's estate, 27 June 1709."

I presume this refers to Mullenex Radcliff. It also says:

"His inventory was filed 9 Sept. 1734."

I suppose that refers to Mullenex Radcliff's estate.

Other records found in Annapolis say:

"Joseph Ratcliffe-Ratcliffe's Chance, part of Hudson's Disappointment, 50 acres, Rent Roll No. 2, St. Mary's and Charles, from Archibald Philpot, 2 Feb. 1747."

"Joshua was administrator for Chas. McDaniell on 29 July 1736."

From the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore the following records were obtained:

"Joseph Radcliff took the oath of Fidelity in 1778 in Durham Parish, Charles Co., Md."

"5-5-1788 he was elected vestryman of Durham Parish."

His subscription of 50 lbs. of tobacco per poll was made in 1781, 1782, 1783, also in 1790. In 1792, Joseph Radcliff, Jr. is in the list of subscribers to the vestry.

The Marriage Record of St. Paul's Parish Register, Baltimore-town, gives the following:

"Joseph Radcliff married Mary Lloyd. 3-6-1798."

Some records of Emanual Ratcliffe were also found at Annapolis, and while I doubt if they belong to our family, I will include them, as they may some day help us unravel the mystery as to who our ancestor was, and whether or not he settled in Virginia, as this man evidently did. The oldest record found, in "Early Settlers", Vol. 12, folio 262, follows:

"July the first (1669), came Emanuel Ratcliffe of the County of St. Marie's and proved right to fifty acres of land for transporting himself from Virginia, before me, Jno. Blomfield."

Emanuel Ratcliffe was mentioned in the will of his mother-in-law Daniel Gover, which was probated June 3, 1674. In Sept. 1675, Emanuel Ratcliffe, Executor of the will, was released.

I tried to ascertain if Joseph, or any other Radcliff, served in the American Army during the War of the Revolution, and found the following information in Maryland Archives, Vol. 18:

On the Muster Roll of Charles Co. is the name of Townly Ratcliff. (page 31)

In the 2nd Regiment is the name of Robert Ratcliff, private, enlisted 28 Aug. 1779, deserted (meaning not present, but not meaning "deserted to the enemy"). (page 156)

In list of Recruits and Substitutes for Queen Ann's Co.- Draughts, Richard Ratcliff, June 11, 1781. (page 375)

On the Muster Roll of Capt. Wm. Brown's Co. in the Regiment of Artillery, is the name of John Ratcliff, appointed Nov. 22, 1777 (page 575)

On the Roll and Muster of the 1st Co. of Md. Artillery from Jan. 1st to Mch. 31st, 1782 (Capt. W. Brown, Capt. Artillery) is the name of John Ratcliffe, Commd. Military Stores. (page 580)

In a list of Return of Certificates issued to Non Commissioned Officers of the Corps of Maryland Artillery again appears the name of John Ratcliffe. (page 283)

From the fact that Joseph Radcliff and his son Joseph, Jr., were subscribers to Durham Parish Church, Charles Co., Md., and that Joseph was a Vestryman, they evidently belonged to the Church of England. All the older members of our family, whom I knew personally, belonged to the Methodist Episcopal Church, as most of their descendants do to this day. All the family is strongly Protestant. My grandfather's brother Joshua, of Waterford, Va., belonged to the Society of Friends.

In conclusion, I wish to express my appreciation of the help I have received from the many relatives who have made this record possible, especially my sister Edith Radcliff, and a friend, Mr. Frank Norwood of Frederick, without whose help I could not have found the oldest records in the Court House in Frederick. I am also indebted to my husband, Dr. E. T. Evans, for the financial help he gave for research work and the extensive correspondence this genealogy necessitated, and for the other expenses which he will bear in the completion of this genealogy.

I greatly regret I have been so long finishing it and that it is so incomplete, but I followed every clue I could find, and had various graveyards and genealogical libraries searched.

I have done the best I could with the material which I could find, and which was sent me, and I hope it will be of interest and value to all the descendants of Joseph Radcliff of Frederick County, Maryland.

MARY RADCLIFF, his wife

ROBERT ANDERSON

PLUMMER IJAMS

Frederick Co. Feb. 19, 1816, then came Gilbert Davis and made oath on the Holy Evangels of Almighty God, that the foregoing Instrument of writing is the true whole Will and Testament of Joseph Radcliff, late of Frederick Co., deceased that hath come to his hands and possession, and that he doth not know of any other.

Henry Steiner, Regr.

Robert Anderson & Plummer Ijams came on Feb. 19, 1816 and subscribed as above.

SECOND GENERATION

Children of (1) Joseph and Mary Radcliff.

2. SARAH, m. ---- Grover.

3. ELIZABETH, m. ---- Davis.

4. CATHERINE, m. ---- Dean. She m. 2d time to ---- Mannacay. This name is spelled four ways in her father's will.

5. SUSANNAH, m. ---- Davis.

As both Elizabeth and Susannah married men named Davis, I do not know which one was the wife of Gilbert Davis whom Joseph Radcliff mentions in his will as his son in law. Neither do I know whether the grandson, Luke Davis, was the son of Elizabeth, or of Susannah Davis. Susannah had sons and a dau. mentioned in Joseph Radcliff's will. Catharine Dean had one dau. Sophiah by her 1st marriage to a man named Dean.

I can find nothing more about the descendants of Joseph Radcliff's daughters.

6. THOMAS, m. Elizabeth ----. He died young, or in the prime of life, some time between 1814 and 1816, as he was appointed one of the Executors of his father's will and when it was probated, no mention was made of him. His youngest child was my grandfather, Upton Radcliff, who wasn't quite two years old when the will was probated, having been born in April 1814. (Grandpa always told about his father having died when he was a small child. If I had only started this genealogy before grandpa died in 1890, he could have given me much more information about the early history of his family, but then I was too young to be interested in writing a family history.) Diligent search was made for a will of Thomas Racdliff in the Court House in Frederick, but none could be found. However, a record of the settling of the estate of Elizabeth Radcliff was found. As we know so little about either Thomas, or Elizabeth Radcliff, I will include this record:

The 1st and final account of Wm. Ratcliff adm'r. of Elizabeth Ratcliff, late of Frederick Co. Deceased.

State of Maryland, Frederick County.

On the 5th day of July 1836 came Wm. Ratcliff, adm'r of Elizabeth Ratcliff, late of Frederick Co., deceased, and made oath on the holy evangels of Almighty God: That the foregoeing account as stated, is just and true to the best of Knowledge and belief, and that he has paid, or secured to be paid, the several sums for which he has prayed an allowance, which upon the examination is passed by the Orphans Court.

test. G. M. Eichelberger, Regr.

Balance for Distribution brought forward $385.72

Distribution according to law as follows-

To Henry Prather, intermarried to the testator's dau., Elizabeth	$55.102/7
To Jesse Elliott, Interm. tes. dau. Sarah	55.102/7
To Mary Ratcliff, Sarah, Harriett Ratcliff & Thomas children of Intestate's son, Joshua Ratcliff, also deceased, each 1/4. $11.775/8, making	55.102/7
To Joseph Ratcliff, a son of the Intestate	55.102/7
" Upton " " " " " "	55.102/7
" William " " " " " "	55.102/7
" Seth Fisher, Intermarried with Tes. dau. Mary	55.102/7
	$385.72

It is probable that Elizabeth Radcliff died one year earlier than July 5, 1836, when letters of administration were granted to her son William, as accounts were then usually settled one year after death. If we could have found the graves of Joseph and Thomas Radcliff and their wives, we could have obtained many dates we now lack, if the markings on the tombstones were legible. I had all the old graveyards around Monrovia and New Market searched, and although I am sure these Radcliffs were buried in that neighborhood, no trace of them could be found. The fact that on many of the old tombstones, the writing was illegible, I am confident is the reason.

7. JOSHUA, b. in Frederick Co., Md., m. Ann Moore, dau. of Henry and Ann (Griffith) Taylor. He probably d. prior to 7-5-1836, when his mother's estate was settled, but I do not know the exact date. There is an elaborate sampler in the possession of Harry E. Hardy of Norfolk, Neb., which I think, from the date, must be the handiwork of this Elizabeth. It says, "Elizabeth Radcliff's Work, 1813." Some time after his wife's death, Henry came to Decatur to reside. He m. 2d time, 9-19-1838, to Amanda Watson Oglesby, a sister of Richard J. Oglesby. In 1870, they moved to Springfield, Ill., where they lived until their deaths. William d. 10-17 1876. Elizabeth d. in Aug. 1895. Both interred in Oak Ridge Cemetery, Springfield.

13. UPTON, b. Apr. 1814 in Frederick Co., Md. (I think near Monrovia, but I am not absolutely sure), m. 2-22-1840 to Mary Elizabeth, dau. of Daniel and Rebecca (Etzler) Sweadner. Mary Elizabeth b. 11-26-1819, near Libertytown, Md. After their marriage, they resided on a farm near Libertytown, until some of their children were grown, when they decided to "move West". They bought a farm near Mechanicsburg, Ill., but Mary Elizabeth becoming homesick for Md., they sold out and moved back, buying another farm near Libertytown. They lived here until Sept. 1874, when they retired and moved into town, where they resided until their deaths. Upton d. 12-5-1890. M. Elizabeth d. 7-11-1897. Both interred in Fairmount Cemetery, Libertytown.

HOW TO TRACE A LINE OF DESCENT

Suppose Albert Atlee Radcliff, Jr. wishes to know how he is descended from (1) Joseph Radcliff. He will first look in the Index and find his own number is 132. He will see that his father's number is 91; that his father is the son of James M. Radcliff, whose number is 39. Turning back to this number, he will find that James M. is the son of Upton Radcliff whose number is 13, and that Upton is the son of Thomas Radcliff, number 6, and that Thomas is the son of Joseph Radcliff, whose number is 1.

Albert Atlee, Jr., will then see that he is sixth in descent from Joseph Radcliff, whose number is 1 in this genealogy.

INDEX

This index is limited to lineal descendants of (1) Joseph Radcliff. Maiden names are enclosed in parenthesis. As there are two ways of spelling the name Radcliff, I decided to index it as each family spells it. I surmise that it was originally spelled Radcliffe, as it looks incomplete without the letter "e" at the end of the name, but as my father, grandfather and great, great grandfather spelled it without the "e", I have no authority for changing it.
